

$375 to JOIN the Certified Coaching Program*

If you are looking for an inspiring and REWARDING program, this is for you! Promptings Affiliates who are wanting to add another layer and income opportunity to their business building efforts will want to join the coaching program. As a coach, you become certified to coach new users and earn additional income for doing so when you reach the Silver level, and above.

A great perk to participating in the coaching program is that you can attend any of the Promptings Seminar events for just $19! Attended by thousands of people, this event will teach you how to find your inner genius. Kody Bateman has spent years refining this personal development event that reminds you of your power to do good in the world and that ultimately, the world needs the good you have to provide! Attend in person or virtually.

Getting Qualified

Become a Silver Certified Coach when you pay your entry to the program AND complete the first level certified training course. First, you need to become qualified. This means:

- You are a Promptings Affiliate
- You are on a SendOutCards Unlimited Heartfelt Promptings subscription
- You have paid your $375 Coach Certification fee
- You have completed the Certified Coach Training
- You have personally sponsored 3 Promptings Process Package users

Silver Certified Promptings Coach

When you reach the Silver level in the coaching program, you are now officially a Certified Coach - a Silver Certified Promptings Coach. You begin earning bonuses for the individuals you coach through the Promptings Portal - each person you train within 30 days will earn you a bonus!

Gold, Platinum, and Master Certified Coaches

As you train and continue your coaching journey, you will move up through the coaching levels. You earn more when you personally coach and your when your team members coach new users. As your business grows and grows, so does your opportunity - it's all about how far you want to take the team, COACH.

Reach out to your Promptings sponsor to get started!